Why Work for Kelly Education?

You can play a critical role in helping the education system get back on track post-COVID.

Kelly Education provides candidates with quality, steady work that matters – while positively impacting the lives of students in your very own community.

You also have the freedom to create a flexible work schedule that works for you while having access to health insurance, 401(K), weekly pay and more! All instructional employees receive free pre-hire training and can choose a flexible work/life schedule or enjoy consistent work that provides new and different experiences every day.

Whether you are just entering the education field, have been a substitute teacher for many years, or are a retired professional who's never taught before, Kelly Education will provide you thorough training to make sure you're ready for the classroom on Day 1.

About Kelly Education

Kelly Education is moving education forward. As a specialty service of Kelly®, a global talent company that's always asking what's next in the world of work, we're passionate about connecting talent to opportunity at every level from pre-K to higher education. Each year, more than four million classrooms across 40+ states are filled by a Kelly Education teacher or professor. Visit www.kellyeducation.com for more information.
